CAREER ORIENTATION TOOL

No limits: exploring careers for researchers

Welcome! The 'No limits' toolkit for researchers highlights resources to help you

- identify what's important for you in your career
- plan to build on your skills and knowledge
- consider a wide range of career options.
- make a plan to reach your professional development goals.

The toolkit includes advice, quizzes to help you explore your own needs and links to resources, information and opportunities.

PIPERS Project Career Kit

PIPERS Project Career Kit is a collection of external learning resources in the topics of entrepreneurial skills, information literacy, disciplinary working, IPR, leadership skills, managing a research career, professional development, public engagement, researcher self-assessment, market exploitation of research results and working with industry.

The resources are aimed at trainers and people who are responsible for training researchers, although researchers may find some of these resources useful. They consist of a range of different types of resources: training materials; links to online career activities and webinars; articles, advice or guidance; case studies and presentations covering the above topics.

CASE STUDIES

MEASURING IMPACT

The EURAXESS initiative is currently exploring how the network can support Researchers Career Development (RCD). This section gathers the first results of this work, especially those related to RCD policy. These results include a set of recommendations for different stakeholders on how to foster RCD, some case studies, and a few tips on how to measure the impact of the RCD strategies.
